FOR THE NEXT SENATOR.

SAM PLATT found he had the vote of Tonopah and Nye county safely accounted for after the meeting last night, when he played his opponent for his general apathy concerning things of interest to the people of this state. Mr. Platt spoke to a sympathetic audience and every reference to his political adversary was received with applause. The speech was not so remarkable for its oratorical flights or indulgence in pleasing rhetoric as it was in the trenchant blows aimed at the man who boasts that he carries the vote of Nevada in his vest pocket and is certain of a lifetime billet at Washington. After one hour's analysis of the career of the heir of the Sharon millions Mr. Platt summed up in one cogent sentence that Newlands was chiefly distinguished for his acts of omission since he had been consistently and persistently opposed to everything his constituents wanted at the hands of the administration. Every point was well taken and the audience was with the speaker from the opening of his remarks to the close without giving the least sign of discomfort at the lateness of the hour.

FIFTY YEARS OF STATEHOOD.

NEXT Saturday the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of Nevada to statehood occurs. The event should be celebrated with some public display to emphasize the fact that Nevada was the state which saved the country from dissolution. There has been too little attention paid this holiday, which should be observed with all the fervor of an event of the utmost importance to both state and nation. Miss Jeanne Elizabeth Wier, the enthusiastic secretary of the State Historical Society, has taken great interest in promoting the celebration of the holiday and her injunction to the schools of the state should not be overlooked. It matters not that the anniversary comes on a holiday. The schools should hold a celebration that will impress on the youthful mind the many salient features associated with the admission of Nevada during the stormy period of history which gave rise to the nomenclature of the "Battleborn State." The celebration should not be restricted to the pupils, but there should be a programme of sufficient attractiveness that would draw parents and the adult population to the capacity of the largest hall available for the ceremony.

PARTY OF DESTRUCTION.

THE effect of a Democratic legislature is manifest in Lyon county which protests against an increase of ten per cent in the assessed valuation of that county. The Tax Commission faces the necessity of increasing the property value in Nevada to nearly $135,000,000 to raise money enough to meet demands of the last Democratic legislature. After the several county assessors got through an exhaustive scrutiny of their districts, they reported a valuation of $118,000,000, which proved $17,000,000 short of the requirements. Lyon county has suffered seriously at the hands of the Democratic lawmakers both at home and in Washington and, while facing an industrial depression due to the shut down of copper production, taxpayers are not disposed to accept any additional burdens.

Lyon county has been assessed on the basis of a growing and prosperous copper industry, including a new smelter. The fact that the smelter has been closed by the indifference of the administration to the wants of the copper industry aggravates the grievance. The closing of the smelter has compelled the closing of the copper mines and the county has been robbed of its chief mainstay.

Locally the Democratic legislature has raised taxes to an onerous extent and nationally the Democratic administration is responsible for hostility to mining culminating in suppression of an infant industry.—Yerington Times.

The Democrats are bringing Secretary Lane out to Fallon to boost for Newlands. Lane is going to tell the men who were victimized into accepting lots under the Lahontan project that Newlands should be acclaimed as their savior. Senator Nixon did more for the Fallon irrigation project than twenty Newlands, without any ostentation or flurry. It must be a pretty poor United States senator who has to commandeer a cabinet officer to help out in a hopeless campaign. By the way, Lane is the man who declared that to the victor belongs the spoils by ordering that no land office notices appear in any other papers than those friendly to the administration.

Lane, the friend of Newlands, rides in the same boat. Both believe in the power of the government at Washington as expressed by Lane's most recent order placing Alaska under domination of a bureaucracy at Washington.

"Me and Wilson" would have settled the war and the silver question had it not been for the czar and kaiser butting in, according to Senator Newlands.

Voters of Nevada

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF NEVADA:
At the Republican State Convention, held in the City of Carson on September 27th, 1914, the following resolution was adopted by such convention:
"WHEREAS, Mr. R. A. McKay, on the invitation of this convention has appeared before it and made a clear and convincing statement of the circumstances attending his nomination for the office of attorney-general and that the same was for no other purpose than to carry out the understanding between the Republican and Progressive party nominating candidates for the office of attorney-general and state printer, without Republican opposition, and
"WHEREAS, Mr. McKay has requested this convention and through it the Republican party of the state to ignore his candidacy and support Hon. George Springer, the Progressive nominee in his stead; now therefore
"RESOLVED, That the thanks of this convention be tendered Mr. McKay for his courageous and manly action in the premises; that his withdrawal from the list of active Republican candidates be accepted; and that this convention endorse the candidacy of Hon. Fred J. Trimmer for the office of state printer and hereby pledge the Republican party to their unqualified support at the polls."
I desire to respectfully and earnestly urge the Republican voters of the state to carry out the terms of the above resolution.
Dated, Carson City, Nevada, October 16th, 1914.
R. A. McKay.

Bulletin to work in the interest of suffrage. The Bulletin is a notorious Socialist daily and recognizes the fact that the best way to produce Socialists is to cultivate suffrage.

How many salaries does Jimmy Finch draw? He appears in the Congressional Directory as stenographer for the committee on revolutionary claims and messenger for the senate committee on interstate commerce.

It gives Newlands the shudders to pass through Nevada on his private car for fear some of the naughty citizens may ask him to stop while he is anxious to go through to his San Francisco home.

200 TON PLANT FOR WITTENBERG AT MANHATTAN

WILL BE MODERN AMALGAMATION PLANT WITH CAPACITY OF 200 TONS PER DAY.

The Wittenberg lease at Manhattan is to have a new mill. The machinery will be shipped to Tonopah within the next forty-five days and it is expected that the mill will be in operation within the next three months, or possibly before that time. The plant will be modern in every detail and will be one of the most easily operated plants in Nevada. Its capacity will be 200 tons per day.

The simplicity of construction is due to the manner in which the values occur in the ores. A careful examination, based on a large number of tests, has demonstrated that the greater percentage of the values are found in the seams of the gangue which, when fractured, releases the mineral contact in the form of fines.

The ore will be reduced in a heavy jaw crusher to approximately two-inch pieces, which will free the greater portion of the values. From the crusher the ore will pass over a grizzly with three-quarter-inch spaces where the fines will be taken out. The remainder, which assays approximately 56 cents to the ton, will be sent to the tailings dump.

The fines will be conveyed to a tube mill, where they will be further reduced, and will pass from thence to the amalgamating plates. From the plate the pulp will be sent to a Dorr classifier. The overflow slimes from the Dorr classifier will be sent to the tailings dump. The headings will be returned to the tube mill for further reduction, thus closing the circuit.

The entire equipment of the mill will be driven by motors.
